ACTIVE FOOT FRAME BENEFITS

- Integrated stability within the shoe
- Adaptable to a wide range of feet and running styles
- A comfortable alternative to traditional post support

J-FRAME™

STABILITY WITH FREEDOM

Designed to combat overpronation, J-Frame™ innovation delivers extended support with a firmer foam on the medial side where the foot typically rolls inward.

- Designed to combat overpronation
- Guides foot without rigid, unforgiving materials
- Delivers stability while maintaining a cushioned, lightweight ride

MATERIALS

We recognize producing and selling footwear and apparel has a global impact, and it carries an obligation to advance sustainable business practices and good business ethics. GORE-TEX

A performance-driven gold standard, GORE-TEX product technology provides a breathable membrane designed to keep feet dry and comfortable in a variety of conditions.

WHEN AND WHY WE USE IT

We use GORE-TEX product technology in select HOKA trail shoes and hiking boots that need to perform in wet conditions. We're big fans of GORE-TEX not only for its functionality but also for the brand's commitment to performance and innovation.

GORE-TEX FOOTWEAR FABRIC WITH RECYCLED TEXTILE

GORE-TEX footwear fabric with recycled textile is an environmentally conscious approach to waterproofing that utilizes an ePTFE (expanded polytetrafluoroethylene) film or membrane, uses post-consumer recycled fibers in its backer, and uses PFC free chemicals.

WHEN AND WHY WE USE

We prefer this innovative technology because GORE-TEX fabric with leaf booties feature 45% recycled content by weight and a PFC-free DWR finish to seal out moisture and enhance breathability. The membrane offers an environmentally preferred approach to waterproof technologies while preserving the high standard of performance for which GORE-TEX is known..

MATRYX®

MATRYX® is a lightweight, extra-durable woven material with hydrophobic properties. It's abrasion resistant to help you get the most out of your runs.

WHEN AND WHY WE USE IT

We use MATRYX® in the upper of select premium shoes that need more lockdown and protection against the elements. MATRYX® is a favorite of ours because it's unlike any other material out there. It's ridiculously light for how durable it is, and it performs in various conditions.

VIBRAM® MEGAGRIP

Vibram® Megagrip is a high-performance, extra-sticky rubber. It provides grip and traction on wet or dry surfaces and is the industry leader in durable rubber for outdoor products.

WHEN AND WHY WE USE IT

We include Vibram® Megagrip as the outsole for select trail shoes and hiking boots that need intense grip on a variety of surfaces. We chose Vibram® Megagrip because it provides grip in less-than-ideal conditions and lends stability on unpredictable terrain.

VIBRAM® MEGAGRIP WITH LITEBASE CONSTRUCTION

Vibram® Megagrip with Litebase construction is a high-performance rubber that reduces outsole weight while maintaining performance. This technology reduces rubber outsole thickness about 40-50% and reduces the weight of tread about 25-30%.

WHEN AND WHY WE USE IT

We use Vibram® Megagrip with Litebase construction as the outsole for select SKY Trail and SKY Hike products that need high performance traction. The reduction of the thickness of the rubber bottom does not affect the sole nor the risk of laceration. Vibram® Megagrip with Litebase construction is unique because it keeps the same characteristics of traction, duration, and wear resistance while also maintaining a lighter weight.

RUBBERIZED FOAM

Rubberized Foam is a proprietary blend of rubber and EVA. It features a low compression set and is resilient, providing an extra-springy feel.

WHEN AND WHY WE USE

We use Rubberized Foam on shoes that need a more energized and resilient ride. We often use it in the outsole because it's lighter than traditional rubber, more durable than EVA and provides a unique ride.
